Description	Budget	Explanation
Salaries and Related Expenses to provide re-entry services	$500,000.00	Provide Reentry services to men at highest risk to reoffend
Grand Total	$500,000.00

Please explain how these funds will be used to provide a public benefit:

Turn90's program delivers public benefits by reducing recidivism and fostering successful reentry for men leaving prison. When individuals are released from incarceration, they face numerous barriers—employment, housing, and social support—making it difficult to reintegrate into society. Without intervention, many return to prison, continuing a costly cycle that affects families, communities, and public resources.

Turn90 breaks this cycle by providing comprehensive support. Through transitional employment, job training, cognitive-behavioral classes, and supportive services, we help participants gain the skills and confidence needed to succeed. This reduces the likelihood of reoffending, which in turn decreases the financial burden on the criminal justice system and enhances public safety.
